Eligibility

Income

Each year, GEF reviews rental rates and calculates subsidized rent based on the Alberta government's annual threshold limits.

To be eligible for subsidized housing in our self-contained Apartments, your total gross annual income from line 15000 of your most-recent Notice of Assessment (NOA) cannot be over the income threshold. Eligibility is always based on your previous tax year's reported income and not your current year's income.

Age

If you are single, you must be 65 years of age before you can apply for housing with GEF.

For co-applicants, one person must be 65 and the other person needs to be at least 60 years of age before they can apply for housing.

Reference Requirement

To be eligible for GEF housing, the applicant may be asked to provide consent for a housing reference from their previous landlord, where applicable.

Citizenship

To be eligible for GEF housing, applicants must be a Canadian Citizen, landed immigrant (also known as a permanent resident), refugee sponsored by the Government of Canada, or individual who has applied for refugee or immigration status and for whom private sponsorship has broken down.

Individuals with a permanent resident card who are privately sponsored are still required to satisfy the terms of the sponsorship agreement before applying for social housing.

Functional Independence

Functional independence is the physical, mental, and emotional ability to look after your own daily personal needs and be able to interact socially and appropriately with other residents. Each senior in a GEF building lives in their own self-contained unit, but it is expected that you are able to:

- Maintain your own unit in a clean and tidy condition (Lodge services provide support with weekly housekeeping).
- Live amicably with fellow residents and staff.
- Abide by the terms of the lease agreement you sign with GEF.
- Manage your own personal medications, either on your own or with home care support.
- Maintain appropriate personal hygiene.
- Safely navigate the building, including to and from the dining room for meals, with or without the assistance of an aid to daily living, such as a cane, walker, or wheelchair.

Frequently Asked Questions

How long is the wait?

If you have a high need for housing and services and you are flexible about where you live, your wait time may be lower. If you are only interested in a specific location, where there are only a few vacancies per year, you may be waiting longer.

Please note that GEF does not provide emergency or interim housing.

Do I need to have a medical assessment or a doctor's note?

No, GEF does not require a medical assessment. Our self-contained Apartment units are classified as independent living, and our Lodges are classified as supportive living.

Do you have health care?

No, GEF does not employ any medical or care staff.

Many seniors living at GEF receive home care either from Alberta Health Services (AHS) or an AHS-contracted home care service provider. You would be welcome to arrange for this service on your own.

Are pets allowed?

GEF welcomes applications for some small pets at all of our sites. Please note that not all units in our buildings are able to accommodate pets, so you may have to wait longer to move into a pet-friendly unit.

Our Pet Policy Questions and Answers handout has more information and frequently asked questions.

What information will I need to provide?

You will need to ensure that GEF has a copy of your most up to date Notice of Assessment (NOA).

You will want to ensure that you have applied for, or are receiving, all of your eligible seniors benefits, such as Canadian Pension Plan (CPP), Old Age Security (OAS), Guaranteed Income Supplement (GIS), and/or Alberta's Seniors Benefit (ASB).

If you are applying for the Lodge program, you will also need to provide your Alberta Health Care Number.

How big are the units?

Depending on the building, most of the units range from the following sizes:

- Bachelor: 325 - 440 sq. ft.
- One-Bedroom Apartment: 375 - 765 sq. ft.
- Two-Bedroom Apartment: 500 - 915 sq. ft.
- Single Lodge: 185 - 409 sq. ft.
- Double Lodge: 254 - 490 sq. ft.

Is smoking permitted?

GEF has a Clean Air Initiative that makes the majority of GEF Apartments smoke-free. Smoking is only permitted in designated outdoor smoking areas for most Apartments.

What other seniors' housing is available?

You can contact:

- SAGE Seniors Association at 780-423-5510 or visit www.mysage.ca for the Directory of Senior Services.
- ASCHA (Alberta Seniors & Community Housing Association) for their seniors housing directory at www.ascha.com.
- Edmonton's 211 Seniors Information Line at 211 with question about resources and supports for seniors.
